DISTRESS IN THE STOMACH.

There are many people who have a distress in the stomach after meals. It is due to indigestion and easily remedied by taking one of Chamberlain's Tablets after meals. Mrs. Henry Padgham, Victor, N. Y., writes: "For some time I was troubled with headache and distress in my stomach after eating, also with constipation. About six months ago I began taking Chamberlain's Tablets. They regulated the action of my bowels and the headache and other annoyances ceased in a short time." Obtainable everywhere. d&w

For a Damp Room.

When papering a damp room the following hint will be useful: Take half a pint of alum and half a pint of glue-size. Dissolve each together in a pan of boiling water; take off the old paper and wash the wall once or twice with the solution; when dry it can be papered. No damp will ever show through the solution.

His First Line.

"Pa, what is the 'first line of defense'?" "That depends on the circumstances, son. If this country were at war, the first line of defense would be the navy. When a man's married, it's usually the telephone line, by which he tries to square himself before he comes home."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Your Image.

Mothers and maidens, believe me the whole course and character of your lover's lives is in your hands: what you have them be they shall be. If you not only desire to have them so, but deserve to have them so; for they are but mirrors in which you will see yourselves imaged.—Ruskin.

Europeans Are Book Buyers.

In the United States only one person in 7,300 buys a book in the course of a year, while in Great Britain it is one in 3,800; in France it is about the same; in Germany and Japan it is rather better, and in Switzerland it is one in 872. Cheaper books, in paper covers, account for some of this difference; but, whatever the cause, it remains true that the Europeans buy twice as many books per capita as we do.—Atlantic Monthly.

Mercury Aids Plants.

A scientific investigator of Europe has discovered a new method of destroying fungous disease and house hold pests by the use of mercury. In enclosed spaces the mercury is employed in the form of vapor. In other cases it is injected in metallic form directly into the circulating fluids of the plant. The growth of the plant is not only not disturbed, but in most cases actually assisted.

Birds Minus Wings and Tail.

The lowest form of bird life which exists is believed to be the kiwi, or Apteryx mantelli of New Zealand. It is so scarce, however, that scientists consider themselves lucky to get a specimen in any condition. It is without wings or tail, its legs are short, but very strong, and are used for digging.

Men in Much Trouble.

A New Jersey hen, spying a barrel of fine, soft tar, alighted thereon and laid an egg. There resulted a firmly bound sandwich, tar, egg and chicken in the order named. A woman and a man who went to the rescue were also held fast by the hands until police were called and effected a rescue.

Always That Possibility.

"Why do you beg, my good man?" "Can't get no work to suit me." "Is that possible? But why beg? Surely you can get yourself on an investigating committee, or a valuation board, or an advisory commission of some sort."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Something Wrong All Round.

It is said that two-thirds of the persons who work on women's gowns in New York have defective vision. There must also be something the matter with the eyesight of the persons who design them.—Philadelphia Inquirer.
